DEA INTELLIGENCE REPORT

Quest Diagnostics Workplace Drug Testing Index statistics continue to show overall higher levels of methamphetamine abuse in the general U.S. workforce since 2012. Methamphetamine positivity increased 80 percent, from 0.11 percent in 2012 to 0.20 percent in 2016.

Most of the methamphetamine available in the United States is produced clandestinely in Mexico and is smuggled across the SWB. According to U.S. Custom and Border Protection reporting, 21,048 kilograms of methamphetamine were seized at the SWB in 2016, a 29 percent increase from the 16,313 kilograms seized in 2015.

Mexican methamphetamine production continues to increase, as Mexican drug trafficking organizations (DTOs) have adapted to Government of Mexico (GOM) imposed restrictions on precursor chemicals by switching to the P2P (phenyl-2-propanone) method. In using the P2P method, Mexican DTOs are able to produce an abundance of high-purity methamphetamine at lower cost.

Drug prices are quoted as "price per gram pure" (PPG) and should not be interpreted as the actual "street price" for each drug.
